

The BRITISH HARPSICHORD SOCIETY

The British Harpsichord Society promotes the awareness, enjoyment, study, performance & ownership of harpsichords and related plucked keyboard instruments in Great Britain.

We aim to create more public awareness, to dispel negative myths and get more people listening, enjoying and playing the harpsichord.

Our website has extensive links to teachers, performers, builders, & collections within the UK; it has information about instruments, their care and maintenance; it has an archive of articles on a wide range of related topics including historic instruments, keyboard repertoire & period performance styles. We publish news of recent concerts and a Diary with full details of future ones throughout the UK.

Explore it at www.harpsichord.org.uk
